Counsel shall stipulate any matters as to which there is no genuine issue or which counsel does not intend to contest. It shall be the responsibility of plaintiff's counsel to produce a written copy of all stipulations and to file same.

If an agreed pretrial order is submitted to the Court, the final pretrial conference will be stricken from the Court's calendar upon its receipt. However, should the parties submit an agreed pretrial order but still wish to appear to discuss any remaining issues such as jury selection, pending motions in limine, the authenticity of exhibits, or objections to requested stipulations, counsel shall be responsible for notifying the courtroom deputy NOT to strike the pretrial conference from the calendar.

It is so ORDERED.
